To whomsoever it may concern,

I have worked with Joe Binns over the summer of 2019, when Joe did a 3 month internship at our company.

During this time Joe showed great ability to solve problems, he took initiative and came up with creative new designs in his work and research with Unity and real-world simulations of pedestrian flows. Joe made significant contributions during his internship as part of a small team. This was all the more impressive given that he was the youngest intern at the company and still finishing up high school.

I have thoroughly enjoyed working with Joe, and he comes with my highest recommendations. Should you have any further questions, please feel free to email me at mark@mlabs.city.

Sincerely yours,

Mark Florisson CEO at
